DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claim 1 is generic and allowable. Accordingly, the restriction requirement as to the encompassed species is hereby withdrawn and claims 5, 6, and 9-18, directed to the species of workpiece shape and positioning are no longer withdrawn from consideration since all of the claims to this species depend from or otherwise include each of the limitations of an allowed generic claim.

In view of the above noted withdrawal of the restriction requirement as to the linked species, applicants are advised that if any claims depending from or including all the limitations of the allowable generic linking claims be presented in a continuation or divisional application, such claims may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Once a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable. See In re Ziegler, 44 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

Examiner's Amendment

2. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 10, line 1, "8" has been replaced by --9--

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-19 are allowed.
4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Art Unit: 2813

The primary reason for allowance is the limitation of creating an etchant bead at a contoured opening of a device having a curvature selected to mate with and receive the edge region of the workpiece, in addition to the other limitations in the claims.

The prior art teaches similar methods for removing materials from the edge region of a workpiece, such as US 4,968,375 to Sato et al., which teaches contacting the edge portion of a workpiece with an etchant bead formed in a grooved portion of a roller (see figure 3A), or US 6,523,553 to Redeker et al., which teaches contacting the edge portion of a workpiece with etchant contained in a trough (see figure 2). The closest prior art, however, does not teach that the contoured surface holding the etchant bead either has a circumferential curvature selected to mate with the edge portion of the workpiece (such as in figures 3B and 3D of the present invention) or a curvature that mates with the bevel of the workpiece (such as in figures 3A or 4B of the present application), but rather the references teach flat or oppositely curved (i.e. non-mating) circumferential openings that additionally are too broad relative to the thickness-wise edge of the workpiece to be reasonably interpreted as “mating” with the edge of the workpiece.

Since the specific geometry of the contoured opening controls the area of the workpiece over which the etchant is contacted, as well as controlling the extent of the etchant bead, such that the material on the edge portion of the workpiece is uniformly removed, and since the prior art does not reasonably suggest altering the geometries of the contoured opening to control the etchant bead, it is the Examiner's opinion that the claimed geometry is critical and unobvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
